The Best Patrols & National Honor Patrol Award

The Best Patrols

A TROOP'S BEST patrols exhibit enthusiasm, teamwork, and camaraderie—that special spark known as patrol spirit.

How do your patrols measure up? Here are some tips for building patrol spirit and a way to reward success:

Choose a good name. This is a key step toward building patrol identity. Use descriptive words, like Roaring River Rats or Fearless Falcons.

Create a distinctive patrol yell.

Make a patrol flag. Draw the design on canvas or heavy cloth and mount it to a wooden staff. Carry the flag wherever the patrol goes.

Develop members' talents. Does anyone have a specialty? Maybe some are great cobbler cooks or outstanding actors for campfire skits.

Team up for patrol competitions. These contests are fun and strengthen bonds of friendship and cooperation needed to achieve group goals.

BSA National Honor Patrol Award

Show off patrol quality by earning the National Honor Patrol Award, which requires fulfilling the following requirements over a three-month period:

1. Have a patrol name, flag, and yell. Put the patrol design on equipment and use the patrol yell. Keep patrol records up-to-date.
2. Hold two patrol meetings each month.
3. Take part in at least one hike, outdoor activity, or other Scouting event.
4. Complete two Good Turns or service projects approved by the patrol leaders' council.
5. Help two patrol members advance in rank.
6. Have at least 75 percent of members in full uniform at troop activities.
7. Have a representative attend at least three patrol leaders' council meetings.
8. Have 8 members in the patrol or experience an increase in patrol members.

_____ Patrol
National Honor Patrol Worksheet

If you really want evidence that the patrol you lead is a great patrol, then you will want to "go the extra mile" and earn the National Honor Patrol Award. Any patrol that earns the award will be getting the most it can out of Scouting. The award is an embroidered star worn beneath your patrol medallion, and it spotlights your patrol as one of the best. It's a challenge the guys can really get behind.

Award Requirements:

The award is given to patrols that complete the following requirements:

Spirit Have a patrol flag and rally around it. Put your patrol design on all your equipment. Use your patrol yell or cheer and patrol call. Keep patrol records up to date for 3 months.
